Eldered by Elder Mac!

What tenacity and verve bubbled within me on Saturday as I tried and tried to get my elderly iMac to open the Schedule Planner. Sunday morning, I submitted to attending our virtual CYM Meeting for Worship on my cellphone ... sigh ...

Then out of the ethereal, divine, blue, I had a leading ... or an elderring? ... to go to my studio loft to check emails and follow up on some supportive, techy, suggestions. Violà!

It worked to get the Planner on my Mac. I chuckled ... I was not sure if my iMac eldered me but I could make the leap via this morning’s CYM email, going to quaker.ca/yearlymeetinginsession!

Since making that joyous discovery, I checked again. Both are definite portals for me to see Friends in Gallery View, and leave my cellphone charging on its umbilicus. Blessings of joyful relief and gratitude for Friends’ support and care,

Jan Lehde, in Sointula, BC,
Vancouver Island Monthly Meeting.

The Daily Quacker

The Daily Quacker is a long time Canadian Yearly Meeting tradition. When we meet in person, it is usually available after breakfast. Everyone at CYM is welcome to send announcements, news, comments, and even short articles.

It is easy to send contributions to The Daily Quacker. Find the “Daily Quacker SUBMISSIONS” link at the top of the CYM 2021 Planner. Here is it here as well.

DAILY QUACKER: Submissions

This link takes you to a form. Fill it out, press “SEND” and you’re done.

Daily Quacker items come directly to the Daily Q editor. I put the issue together, and send it to Program Committee early the next morning. If you have questions, you can send them through the submissions link as well. I watch email closely all day.

When are Daily Q items due?? Chris Hitchcock and I had initially set a due date of 6:00 pm for Daily Q items for the next day, but this may be a bit too early for Friends who are still busy with CYM activities in the evening. I will appreciate receiving by 6:00 Eastern Time but the absolutely final deadline in 10:00 pm. The Daily Quacker will be available by 10:00 am Eastern Time.
